HYMN OF THE WEEK

Shout to the Lord

taking+ faith home

CARING CONVERSATIONS

Discuss in your home or small group:

- How do you show love for God?
- How is the worship of God more than attending a worship service?
- Mark 12:30-31 links the worship of God with love of a neighbor. How does this influence your worship experience in the congregation? Your worship experience in the home?

DEVOTIONS

Read: Deuteronomy 6:1-9.

Verses 4-9 are called the Shema from the Hebrew word for “Hear,” the first word in this passage. It was and is recited twice a day by faithful Jews. It is also the positive expression of the First Commandment, “You shall have no other gods before me.” This and all of the teachings Moses gave the people were to be taught to their children as they recited and talked about God’s word. This reciting, talking, and teaching takes place “when you are home and when you are away” (v. 7). It is still true today that the most effective faith formation takes place through personal relationships in the home, especially with parents and grandparents. Reflect on how Taking Faith Home helps you teach and practice the faith with those you know and love.

Pray: Beloved God, help us to study and trust your word and guide us as we tell others of your message when we are home and when we are away. Amen.

SERVICE

Loving your neighbor is a central way to live out your faith and to love God. Christian love is not simply an emotion. It is a commitment to act on behalf of the needs of others. In both the Old and New Testaments, loving your neighbor includes loving those who could be considered your enemy (Leviticus 19:34; Matthew 5:44; and Luke 10:29-37). Choose someone who you would not consider your friend and yet needs God’s love and your love. Find a way to love that person with a smile, a kind word or message, or some other act that conveys care and concern.

RITUALS AND TRADITIONS

Jesus and the New Testament names Deuteronomy 6:5 as the great commandment (along with Leviticus 19:18). Deuteronomy 6:4-9 has been recited by God’s faithful people throughout history. Take time to recite these verses twice a day and talk about them. This is part of our worship and love of God and neighbors.
